Responses to the Stainless Brno

The company ThyssenKrupp is considered a global player and the current number one on the market in stainless materials, which makes it absolutely essential for us to take part in this trade fair. We have been here since the very first year, so we have had the opportunity of watching interest in the STAINLESS trade fair continually growing. We are also delighted by the interest shown by the trade public and the event has, from our viewpoint, achieved its goal. We are also satisfied with the talks we held here. We would certainly lose a number of contacts if we did not take part. (ThyssenKrupp)

This is the fourth time in a row we have exhibited here, and I have to say that STAINLESS is an extremely professional trade fair and important for meetings with representatives of various companies in the field of stainless steel. This is important to us, as APERAM is a new company, and this trade fair is an opportunity to advertise this new brand. It is also advantageous to us as a great many professionals in the field of stainless steel from all over Central Europe, including Austria and Germany, come to the fair, so we can hold many meetings with potential clients in the space of just two days. (APERAM STAINLESS)
