WHAT WAS SAID ABOUT THE FAIR

Lubomír Metnar, former Minister of Defence of the Czech Republic

This fair, held in Brno, is a sanctuary of new technologies and support not only for the defence and security industry. I greatly appreciate our cooperation.

Karel Havlíček, former Deputy Prime Minister, former Minister of Industry and Trade and former Minister of Transport of the Czech Republic

Each country is as self-confident as it is capable of being independent, self-sufficient and being able to defend itself against any threats. That is why it is extremely important to further strengthen spending on our defences and our armed forces, and I am very pleased that we have been doing well in recent years.

Jakub Kulhánek, former Minister of Foreign Affairs of the Czech Republic

I am very happy to be here at the IDET fair this year. The security and defence industry is special and we are well aware that the more we are able to export abroad, the greater will not only be of economic benefit, but at the same time our state and its components will be better prepared for crisis situations.

Jiří Hynek, President of the Defence and Security Industry Association of the Czech Republic

I am very happy that this year's IDET is taking place, because we are sending a signal to the world that we are returning to normality and we are starting to do business live again. When it comes to a foreign customer, there is no alternative to a face-to-face meeting. That is why we now have to catch up very quickly on what we have missed because of covid-19, and IDET is an ideal opportunity to meet foreign delegations and show them what we can do and what is new in our industry.

Shahar Rachela Horev, SIBAT (Ministry of Defence of Israel), Deputy Director

The opening of the first Israeli national pavilion at this Czech defence industry trade fair is a step towards further strengthening security relations. We see great potential for defence cooperation in the areas of unmanned aerial vehicles, air defence, missile systems and cyber systems. We thank the Czech Ministry of Defence for their trust in our defence system and we will continue to work together to strengthen relations and maintain the security interests of both our countries.

EXHIBITORS' VIEW

Czechoslovak Group, Lukáš Novotný, marketing manager

The fair was a success. There are many important companies, many visitors who were interested in our products both in outdoor and indoor areas. We are glad that we are here and we rate the fair as successful.

General Dynamics European Land Systems, Thomas Strasser, Director of International Trade and Services

We are glad that we can introduce ourselves here as a company that has been cooperating with the Czech industry for a long time. There is great potential for the production of unmanned aerial vehicles in the Czech Republic.

Lockheed Martin, Dennis Göge, Vice President, Central and Eastern Europe

We really enjoy the fair and we are pleased to meet all representatives of Czech industry or ministries who have arrived at the event. Many customers are interested in our products.

LOM Praha, Jitka Šuláková, marketing and PR administrator

We are very satisfied with the fair. After a long covid break, it's about improving everyone's mood. Attendance was high. Everything was perfect.

AGADOS, Ivo Uchytíl, Head of Sales

I must say that I am pleasantly surprised by the number of inquiries and the number of visitors who are interested in our products. The fair definitely met our expectations.

Rheinmetall, Oliver Mittelsdorf, Senior Vice President Sales

I'm glad to see so many people here, it's really full. My whole team, all the traders, are happy to be at IDET again. The most important thing for us is to meet customers from Central Europe. We are doing well here. We are happy again in the Czech Republic and we are very happy to be back in Brno.
