A

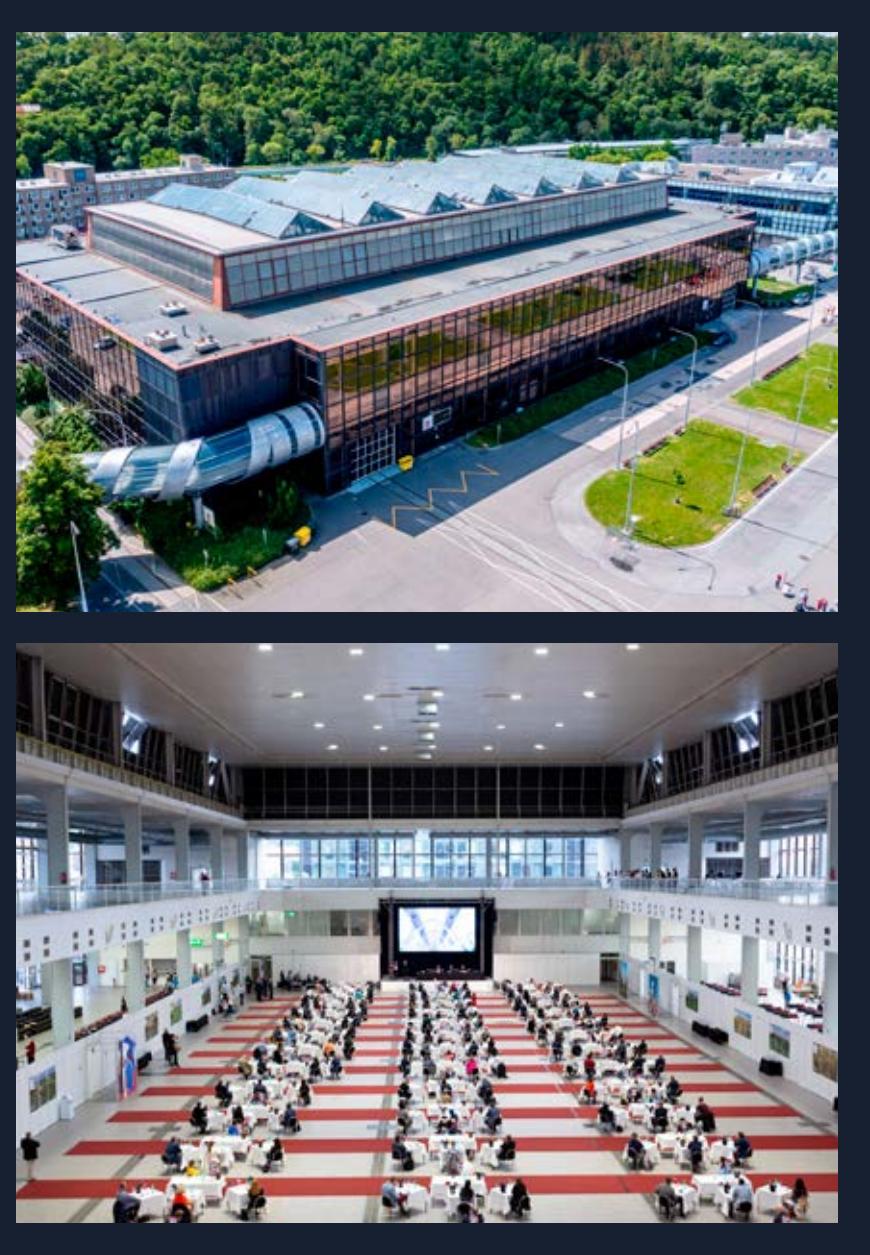

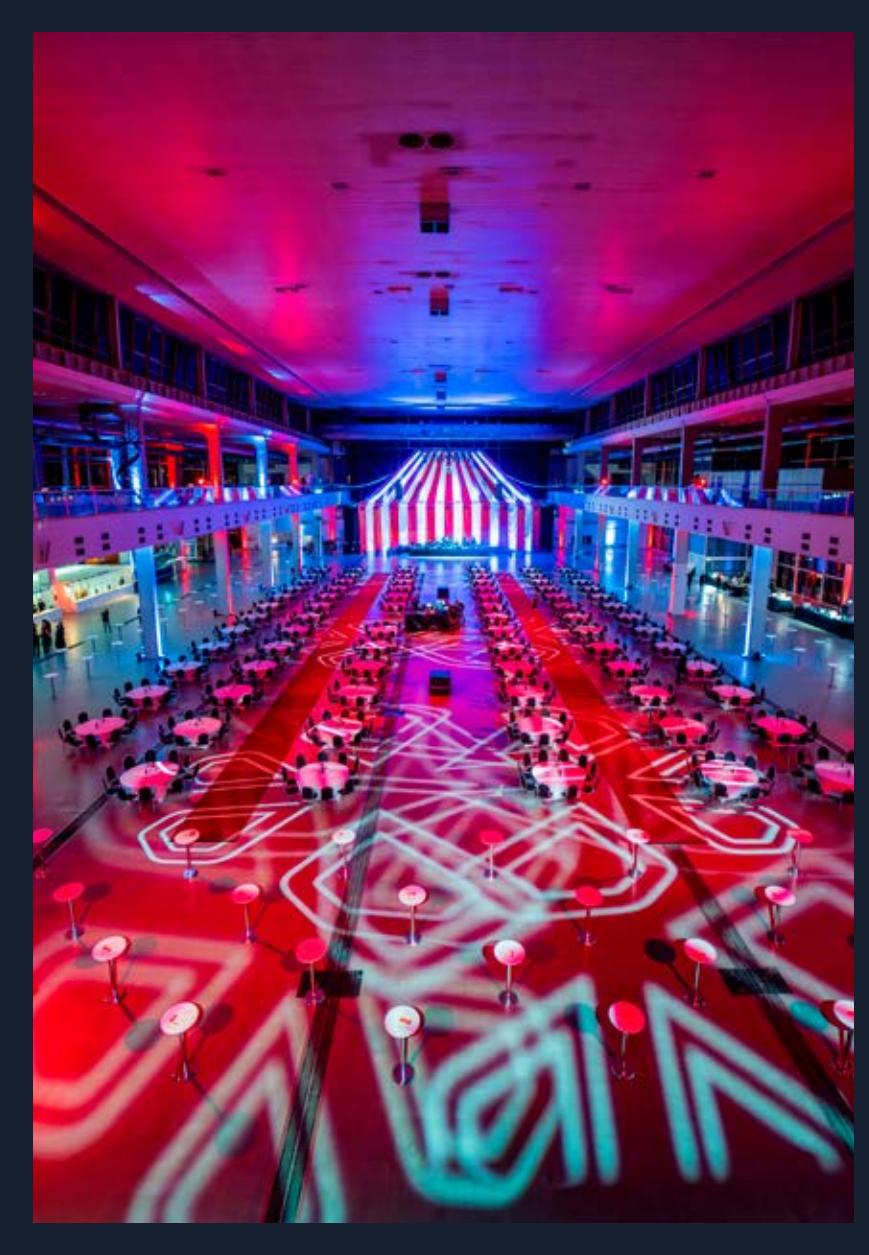

Hall A is an architectural gem of the exhibition centre. Thanks to the glass roof and its iconic arches, it offers a large amount of daylight, which creates a pleasant atmosphere. The division into individual naves allows for an optical separation of the events being held.

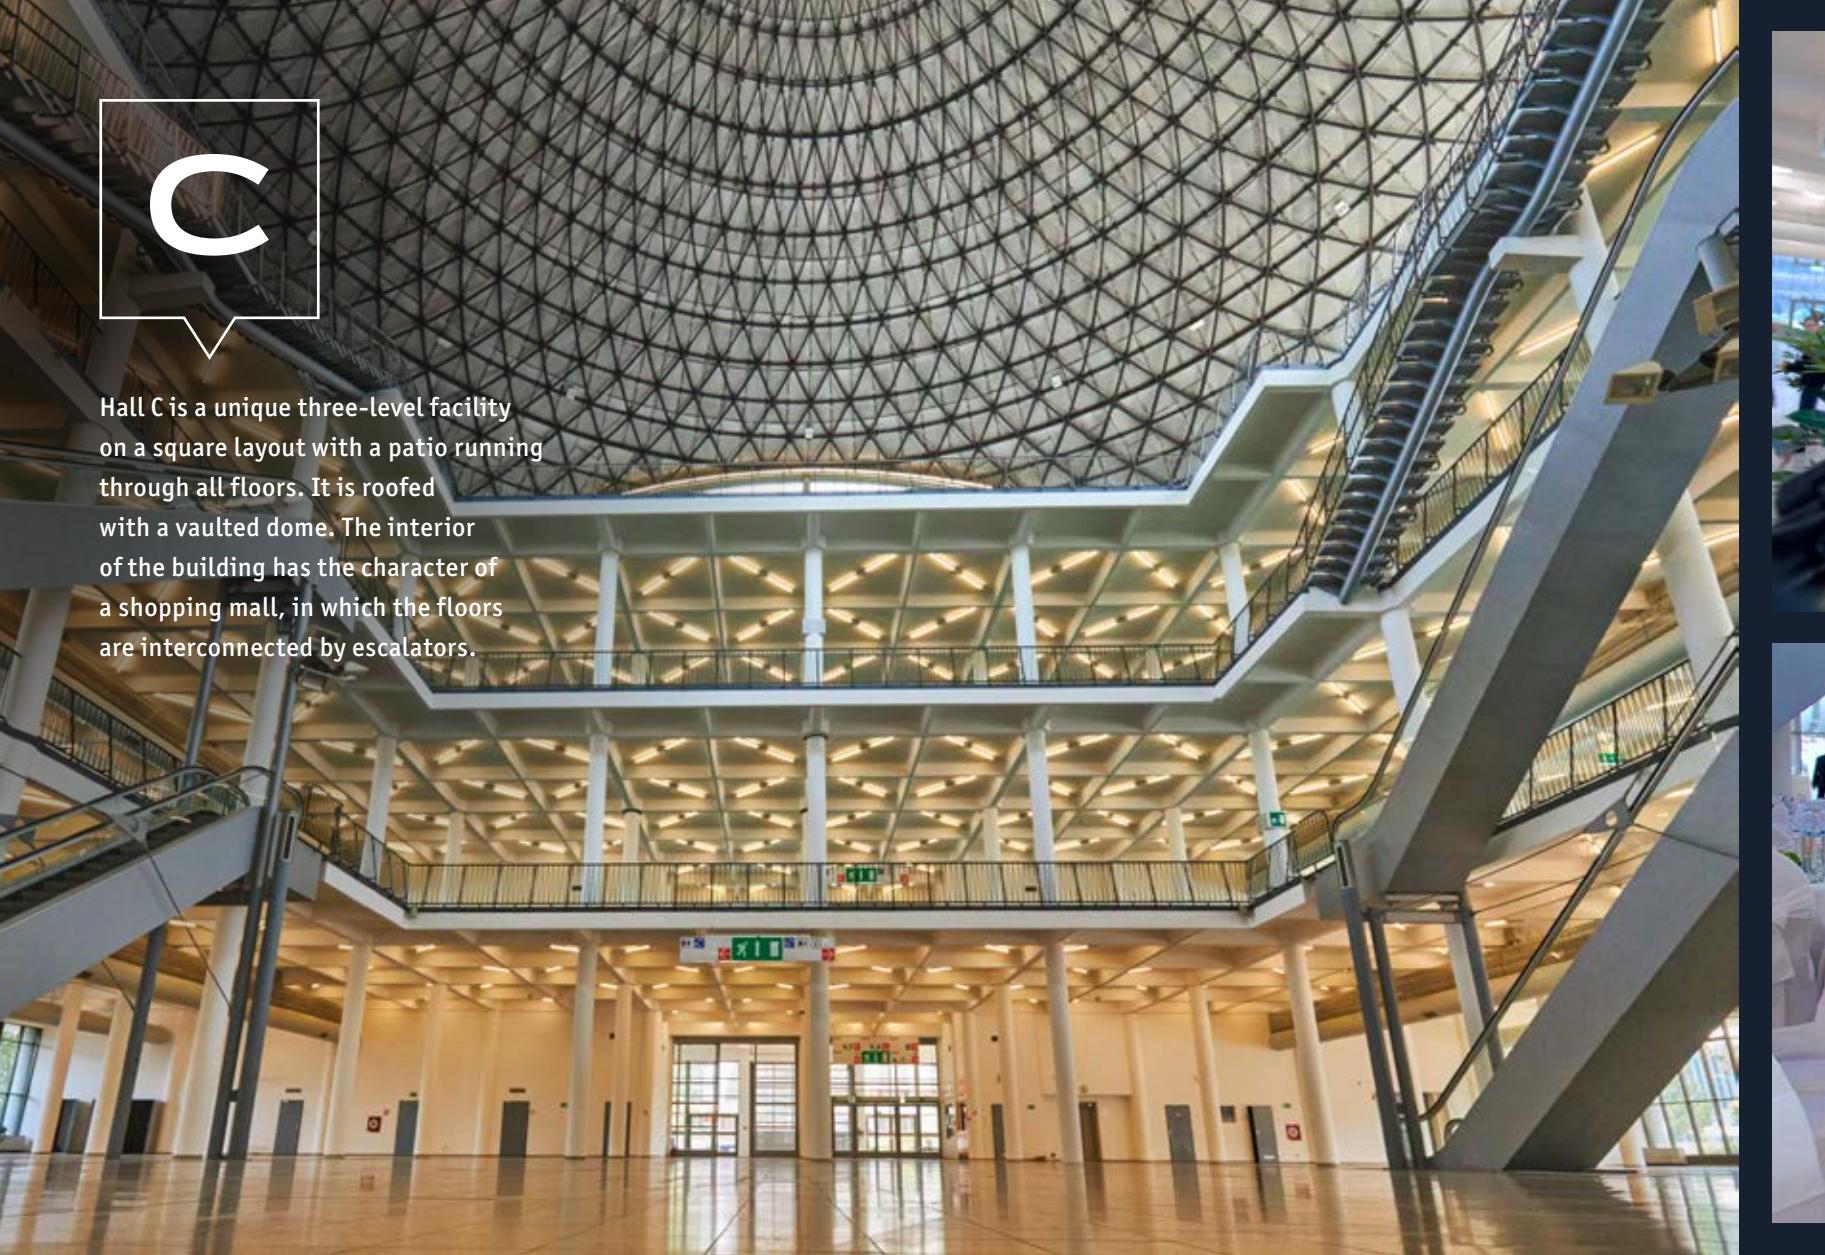

B

Hall B is a steel, glazed structure providing unlimited layout options and a wide range of uses. Its spacious upper concourse with a height of 5.2 meters above the floor further expands the variability of use. The hall's advantageous location is a plus – it is located on the outer circle of the exhibition grounds.

C

Hall C is a unique three-level facility on a square layout with a patio running through all floors. It is roofed with a vaulted dome. The interior of the building has the character of a shopping mall, in which the floors are interconnected by escalators.

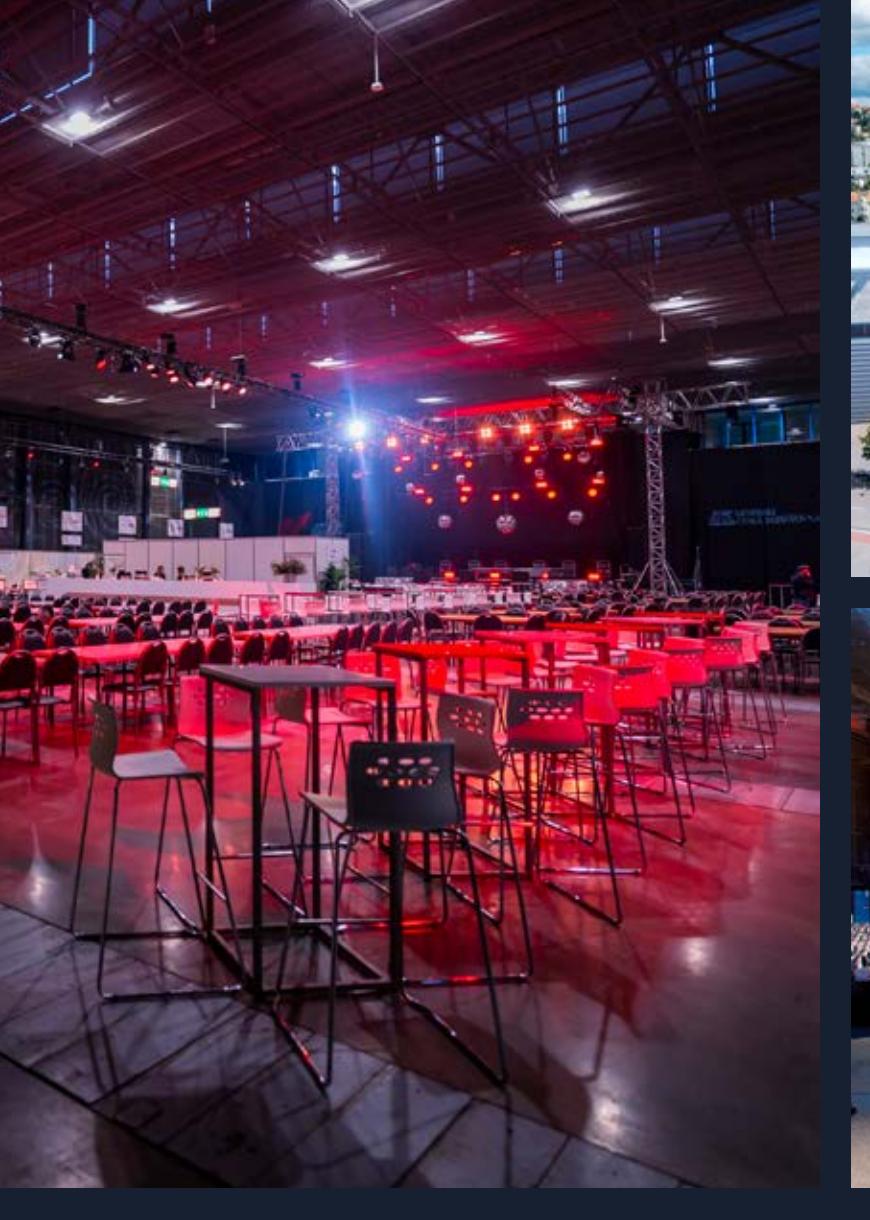

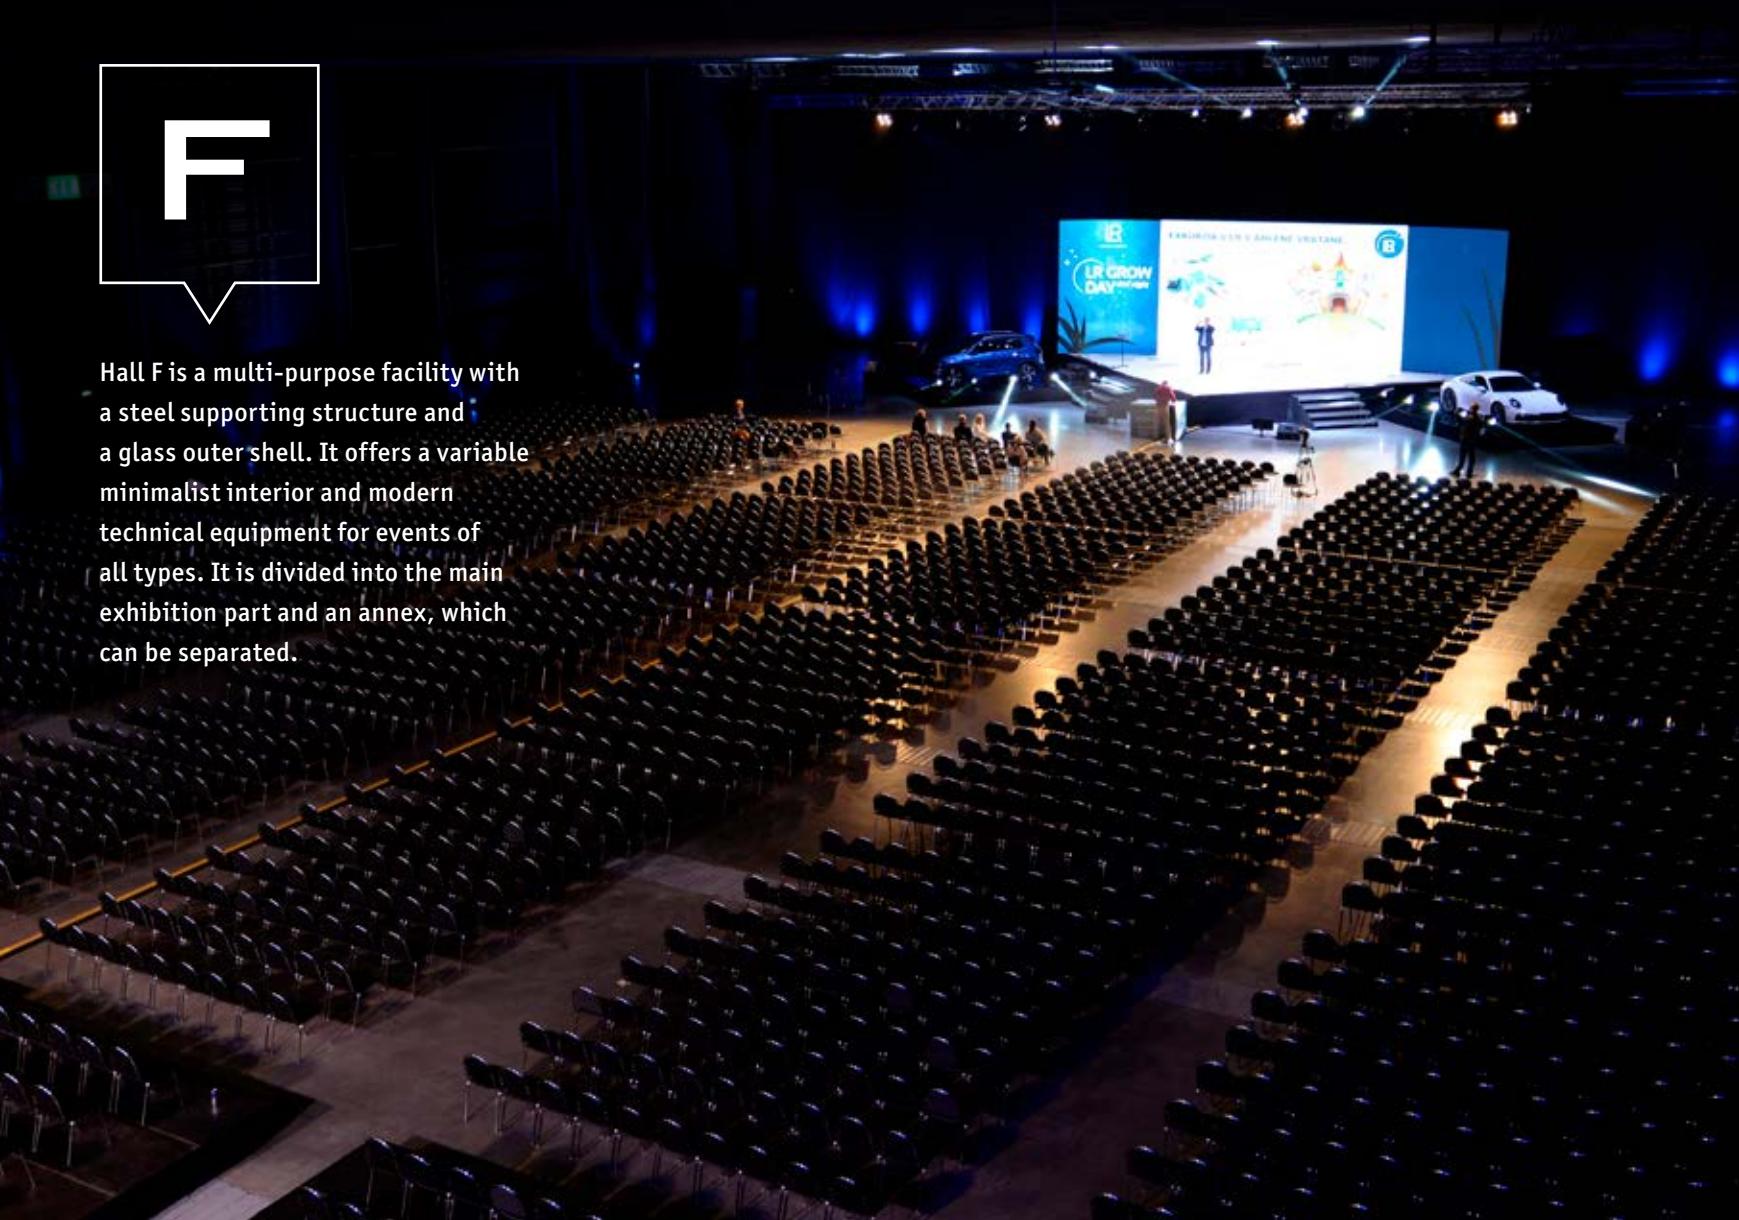

E

Hall E is a three-level facility with a unique industrial atmosphere, located directly at Gate 4 of the exhibition centre, with a convenient connection to the Quality Hotel Brno Exhibition Centre hotel compound, and with excellent transport accessibility. It is a fully equipped convention hall with meeting rooms, an exhibition space and a separate entrance with registration.

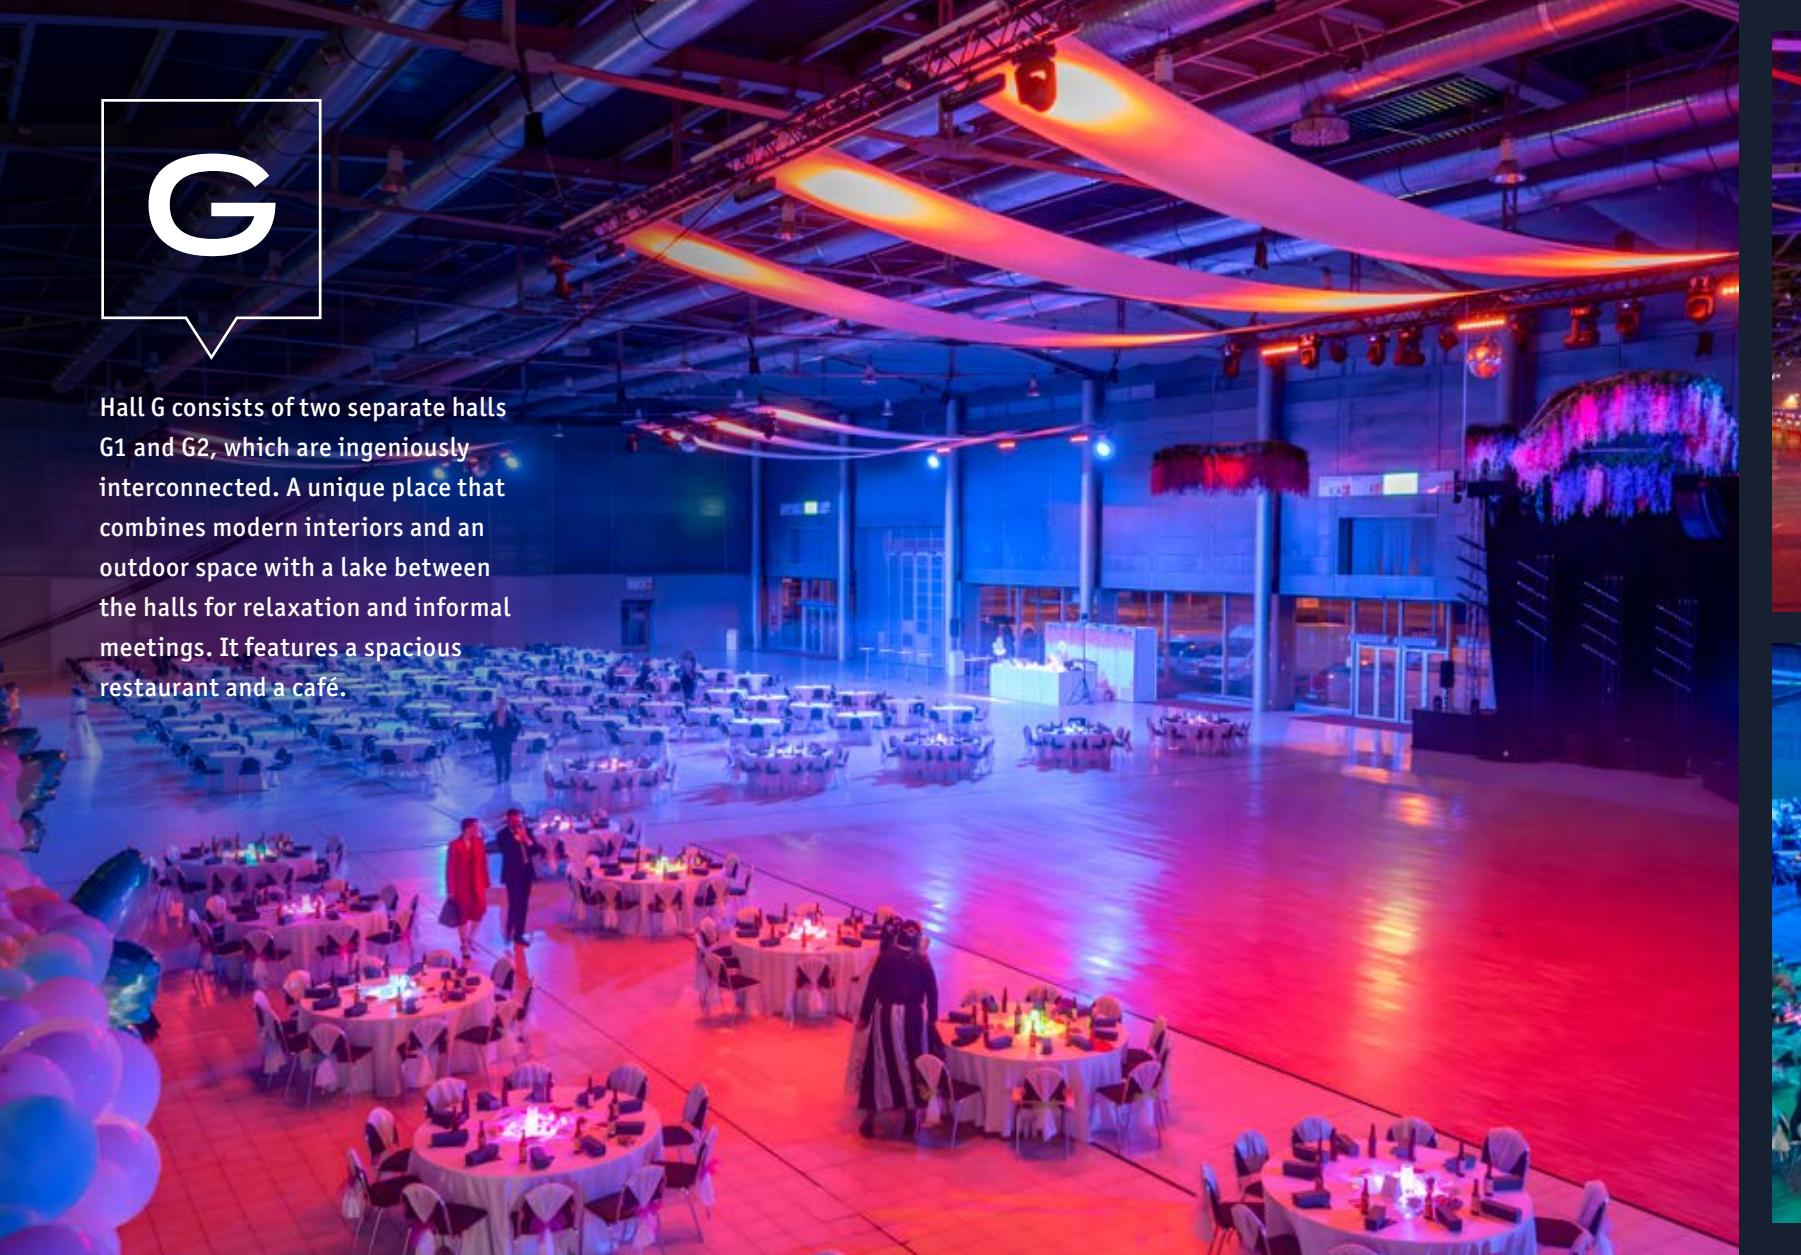

F

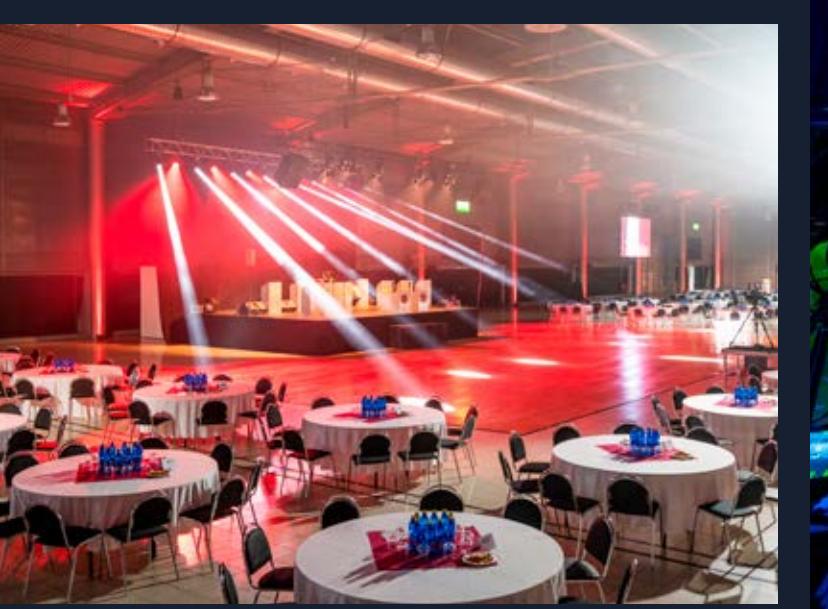

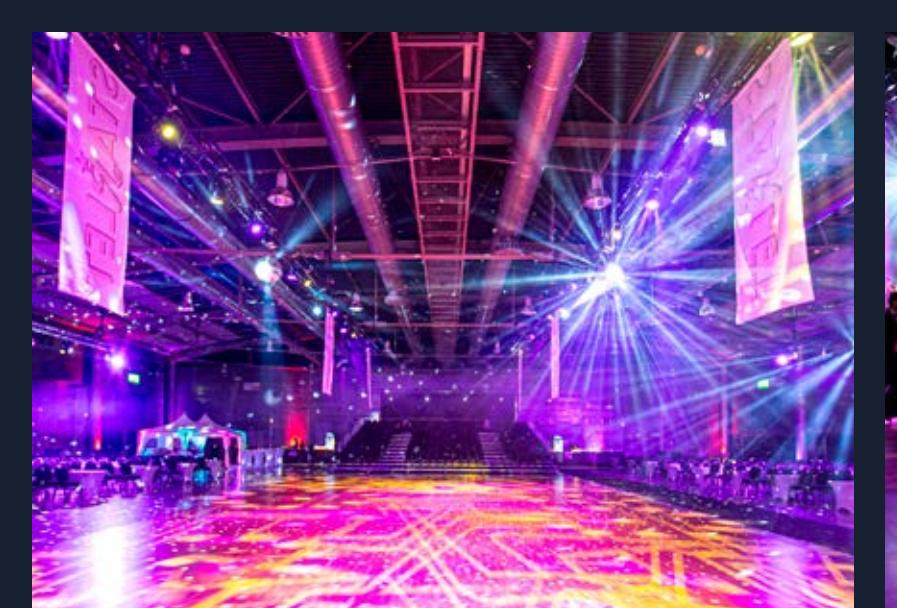

Hall F is a multi-purpose facility with a steel supporting structure and a glass outer shell. It offers a variable minimalist interior and modern technical equipment for events of all types. It is divided into the main exhibition part and an annex, which can be separated.

G

Hall G consists of two separate halls G1 and G2, which are ingeniously interconnected. A unique place that combines modern interiors and an outdoor space with a lake between the halls for relaxation and informal meetings. It features a spacious restaurant and a café.

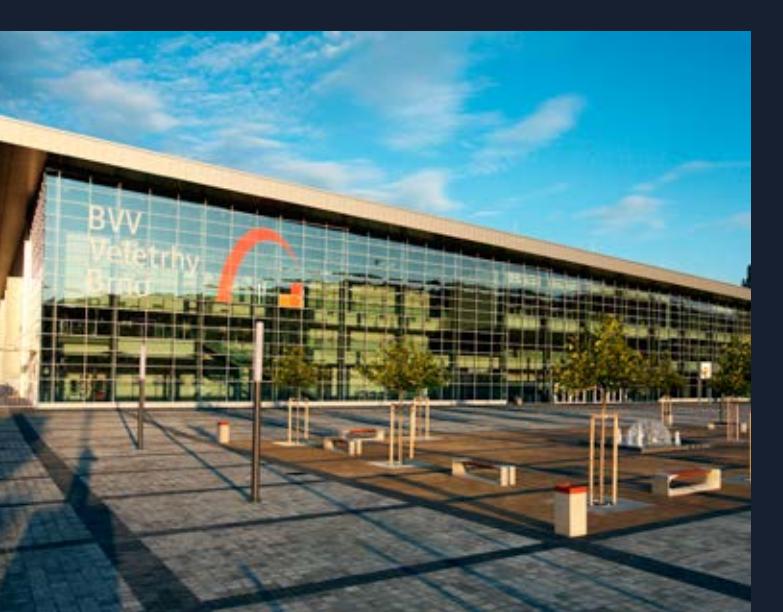

Thanks to the intimate character and layout variability of Hall H, it is ideal for organizing smaller long-term exhibitions. There are side galleries around the entire perimeter of the hall.

P

The flexible structure of Hall P allows for maximum variability in the layout of the space. This hall, with its cutting-edge technical equipment, includes a spacious entrance lobby with a fully equipped registration point, a restaurant and 5 conference rooms.

V

Hall V has a unique square layout.
It includes a nice restaurant.
It is possible to regulate the lighting and darkening of the hall's glazed parts of the outer shell.

Hall Z is an architectural dominant of the exhibition centre with its circular layout and two levels of internal galleries. The impressive appearance of the hall offers an unforgettable environment. It features a dome of monumental dimensions – span 93 m, the clearance of the hall at the top reaches 42 m.

Meeting rooms

Unique variable spaces for trainings, seminars, corporate meetings and social functions from 20 people to large conventions and events.

The rooms offer ideal facilities, including lobby space for exhibitors' presentations.

Outdoor areas

Large outdoor areas are ideal for concerts, cultural events, competitions, sports days and other outdoor events. The closed compound ensures safety and comfort both for organizers and visitors.
